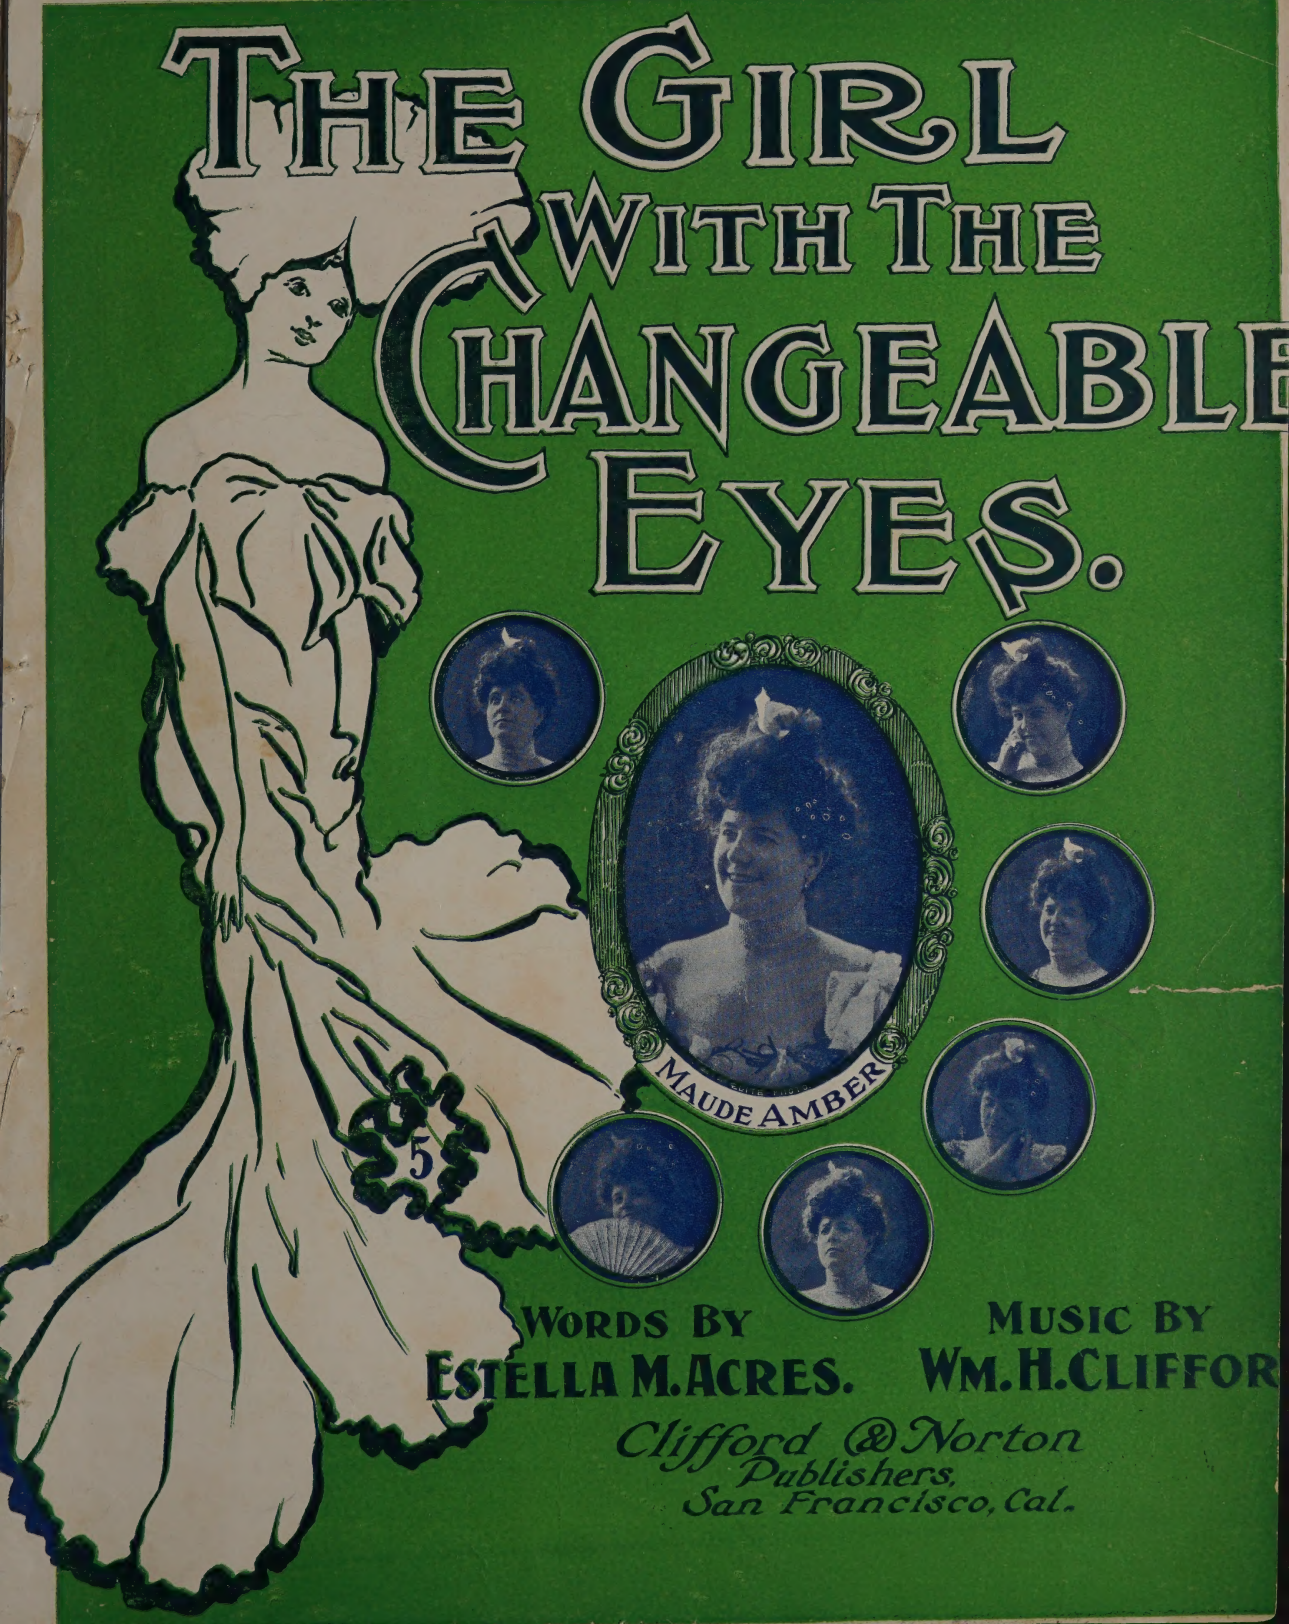
The Initial Song Hit of 1903

The Girl With The Changeable Eyes.



Words By
Estella M. Acres.

Music By
Wm. H. Clifford

Clifford & Norton
Publishers,
San Francisco, Cal.

The Girl With the Changeable Eyes.

Words by
ESTELLA M. ACRES.

Music by
Wm. H. CLIFFORD.

Tempo di Valse.

gracioso e piccicato.
If you'll lis - ten I'll sing you a sto - ry Of a maid
Now the first day I met this sweet maid - en, This be - witch - so fair, Who can shame ev - 'ry ray of the sun - light, ing Miss, Why I thought from her eye's gen - tle plead - ing, Copyright 1902, by Clifford & Norton. International Copyright Secured.

With her gold - en hair. She can flash all the shades of the
That she begged a kiss; But my arms scarce had cir - cled a-rain - bow, In her eye's rogu - ish light, And then change them around her, When her eyes flamed so bright; Said she " Sir, you would gain till they twin - kle Like the stars at night!
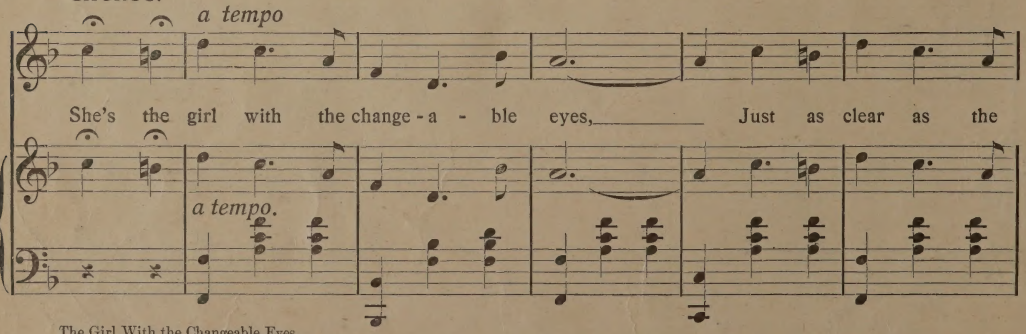
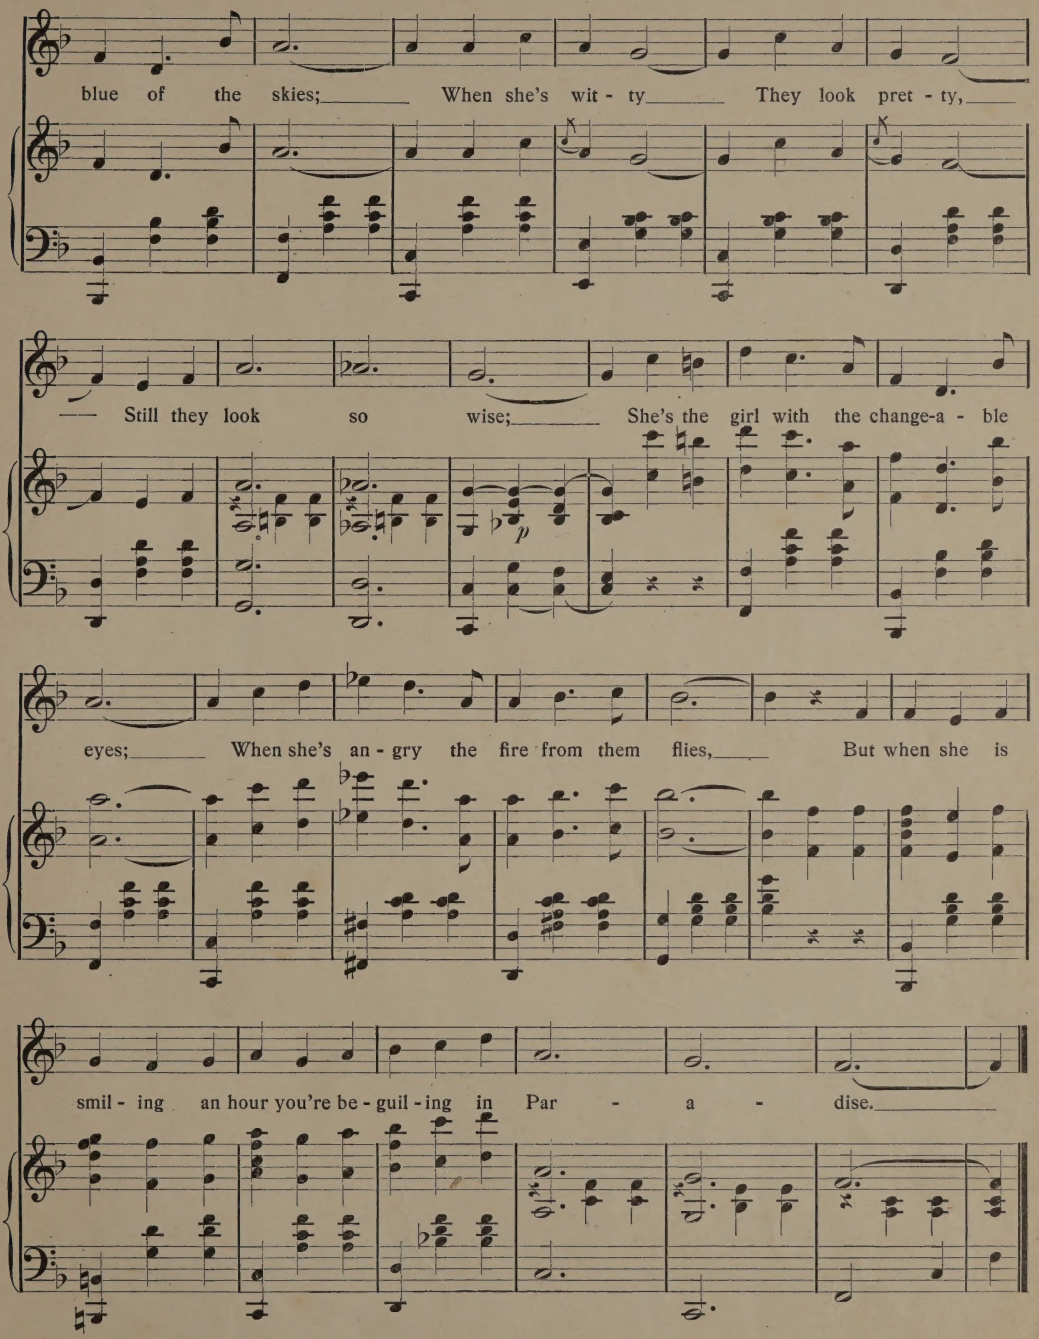
bet - ter be care - ful Till they change their light!"

CHORUS.



a tempo
She's the girl with the change - a - ble eyes, Just as clear as the
a tempo.



blue of the skies; When she's wit - ty They look pret - ty, Still they look so wise; She's the girl with the change-a - ble eyes; When she's an - gry the fire from them flies, But when she is smil - ing an hour you're be - guil - ing in Par - a - dise.

Griggs, Music Eng., Oakland.